

Midweek Challenge

This week, how about getting out and about to make some funny faces.

All you need to do is draw a face on some card, then take your cardboard face when you go out and see what you can find around. I like the ones where the face is put on the ground below a plant to give it crazy hair.

Or you might like to draw a butterfly or heart and see what you can see behind.

Remember to send in your photos to louisa.adams@stpaulscamb.co.uk
